Title IX protects students, employees, and applicants from sex discrimination in admissions and employment to include discrimination based on gender identity or failure to conform to stereotypical notions of masculinity or femininity. More information regarding Title IX, including contact information for the Title IX coordinators, is available at Title IX Harassment and Sexual Assault Information (<https://www.ptc.edu/about/legal-disclosures/title-ix-harassment-and-sexual-assault-information>).

RATIONALE

Why do I need this course?

Herbaceous annuals and perennials are a key ingredient to spectacular seasonal displays in the landscape. The ability to produce novel and attractive landscape designs depends upon the designer's knowledge, or lack thereof, of the broad range of plants that are available for use. Additionally, the ability to identify and understand the growing requirements of a broad range of annuals and perennials is critical to being a dynamic horticulturist.

PROGRAM INFORMATION

For program information including required courses, program learning outcomes, gainful employment information and advisement information, refer to the Academic Program webpage. Go to Academics (<http://www.ptc.edu/academics>), select your program, and then select Credentials Offered.

COURSE STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon successful completion of this course and/or clinical, each student will be able to:

- Identify by scientific name and describe growing requirements of up to 200 species of herbaceous annual and perennial plants that can be utilized in landscapes in the southeast United States.
- Create novel seasonal displays with annuals.
- Recommend appropriate maintenance practices for herbaceous annuals and perennials throughout the year.
